ABOUT US

Originating in Europe, MOSKOVA is an underwear brand created in 2009 by a trio of world class pro surfers - Miky Picon, Jermey Flores and Patrick Beven. Developed with their friends and training partners from Brazil and the North Shore of Oahu, the MOSKOVA brand is inspired by the attitude, passion, discipline and dedication of each athlete's respective sport and lifestyle.

Today, there is a new generation of people who look for premium quality products that meet the technical requirements and aesthetic codes dictated by their passions. These passionate individuals channel their energy into whatever paths they have chosen to take in their lives. Performance is their slogan and MOSKOVA meets these needs through innovation and novelty.

MOSKOVA is all about blending performance with premium technology and style, creating a brand born in the minds of core athletes who live out their dreams every day.
